Ramesh Rukshan

BSc(Hons) Computing

I am a skilled professional in the fields of development, design and Social Media Marketing. Currently, I work as a Associate Project Manager while doing the part-time freelancing in design and development. I am a person who can work smartly and courageously, and I am always eager to learn new things and develop myself to a better state than I was. My curiosity drives me to seek out new information which I frequently share with others.
